Re: FUEL MISER

I recently was given a Fuel Miser fuel conservation product to try on my Jeep Cherokee. The product easily installed in a matter of minutes by simply following the instructions. I really liked the fact that the installation required no vehicle modifications or special tools.

The Fuel Miser instructions indicated that I will not see the full impact of the product until about 1,200 miles. During my first fill up I did not really notice a change in fuel economy, however in my second and third fill ups I found that my miles per gallon has increased by over 2 miles per gallon. My driving conditions and driving habits have not changed, but I do notice that my Jeep seems to perform better since installing the Fuel Miser. I will continue to track the mileage and will let you know the results when I reach the 1,200 mile mark.

Needless to say, I am impressed with this product and would recommend it to my customers.

I also like the fact that the customer's satisfaction with the product is guaranteed for a full year by the manufacturer and the ability to easily transfer the product to my new vehicle when that time arrives.

Sincerely,
