

As Seen in...

the November 2003 issue of

Limousine DIGEST

Industry Updates

Greene Classic Limousine Contracts With FUELMiser

Jeff Greene, president of Greene Classic Limousine, has announced the purchase of FUELMiser for his entire fleet. FUELMiser is the non-invasive, fuel-saving device that is guaranteed to save a minimum of ten percent on fuel costs by the FUELMiser Company and does not void any manufacturers' warranties. After their testing of FUELMiser, Greene experienced an average fuel savings of 13 percent and projects to save his company over $15,000 within the first year of use. Greene says, "The FUELMiser product installs easy, pays for itself in a short amount of time, and can save any limousine company every month on its fuel bill."

In his ongoing effort to advance the limousine industry, Greene presented the FUELMiser product and his actual results at the a Limo Success meeting, which was held in Cleveland the second week of September. Greene said, "As professionals, we always need to watch our dollars, and in this period of skyrocketing fuel costs, this effective, fuel-saving technology allows us to spend our hard-earned money on other necessities."

For more information about FUELMiser, contact Michael Kwak via e-mail at karecon@optonline.net.

FUELMiser